Dear Jim, JL had never had a chance to really read the 1/27/74 transcript with care. So, being a night person, after he mailed the papers to the court last midnight he did. He has come to a view I formed from long-ago reading of the other transcripts I obtained earlier about what this one reveals about the interplay of personalities and some things about some of the personalities. One of the possibilities is that there may be a future essay on this. So, if your form any impressions and have time, we 'd welcome them. The Rankin-Warren relationship interests us most and I think for the first time in this transcript what I'n driving at without specifying shows. As the book gets around I may get some unsolicited comments from strangers.

Best, HW 12/1/74
